BACKPACK MATERIALS

COTTON

The natural fibre and classic material. At HALFAR®, we work with cotton in various qualities, depending on the purpose of use. From heavy, non-slip canvas to light-weight lining materials and hard-wearing mixed fabrics.

Benefits:

- + renewable raw materials
- + breathable
- + naturally nice to the touch and to look at
- + hard-wearing and durable
- + also as organic cotton, fairtrade or pre-recycled (produced from cut-offs)

rPET

The abbreviation stands for recycled PET. New polyester threads are obtained from used plastic bottles. The recycled content of these threads varies depending on the intended use.

Benefits:

- + less plastic waste
- + versatile in colour and structure
- + sturdy and long-lasting
- + lightweight
- + for a sustainable lifestyle

POLY- ESTER

Whether matt-mottled, shiny single-coloured, structured or smooth: polyester can be many things. The synthetic fibre is certainly a jack-of-all-trades, easy to work with and can be used for many things.

Benefits:

- + lightweight and versatile
- + many different textures possible
- + long-lasting and robust
- + water-resistant
- + wipe-down material

NYLON

Just like polyester, nylon is also an industrially produced fibre. We often use this hard-wearing and particularly durable material for outdoor and sport bags that have to withstand a lot.

Benefits:

- + long-lasting
- + lightweight
- + retains its shape
- + versatile in colour and texture
- + resistant to wear and friction

If only you could feel it now: our backpacks are also a tactile experience. From non-slip cotton to cool nylon and supple PU faux leather, there's plenty to choose from. Each material fulfils its own function for the respective backpack and has specific properties. Here is a small overview of the current options at HALFAR® – look forward to regular new products.

TARPAULIN PU FAUX LEATHER

Lorry tarpaulin has its very own attraction and look. We mainly use tarpaulin to produce casual courier bags such as the LorryBag® or functional bags and backpacks.

Benefits:

- + cool, industrial look
- + very robust
- + water-repellent and rugged
- + smooth, easy-care surface
- + versatile in design

PU FAUX LEATHER

At first glance, it's as elegant and fine as leather - but it's actually the synthetic alternative. We use them to make everything from smart laptop backpacks to folders.

Benefits:

- + warm and supple
- + elegant leather look
- + animal-friendly vegan alternative.
- + odour neutral
- + many colours and structures possible

RIPSTOP

ripstop does what it says on the tin. This popular polyester material achieves the rip-proof effect due to its weave with the characteristic reinforcing threads, skilfully combining lightness with tear resistance.

Benefits:

- + very tear-proof
- + lightweight and thin
- + durable
- + sporty look
- + hard-wearing

JERSEY

Jersey is a soft, stretchy knitted fabric and is typically used for T-shirts, for example. We use it for bags and backpacks that are particularly casual, soft and comfortable to wear.

Benefits:

- + soft
- + textile fine knit look
- + lightweight
- + pleasant to wear
- + fashionable
